HISTORY: The Gold Plate Dinner, a beloved tradition that originated in 1977, has grown exponentially over the years. The Hellenic Community of Vancouver holds the distinction of being British Columbia's largest Greek community with a proud and longstanding history. Established in 1927, it serves as an educational, social, and religious hub for the citizens of Vancouver. It caters to diverse age groups by offering Greek language programs for youth and adults, traditional Greek dance classes, community outreach, and assistance.

Through their extensive contributions and program offerings, the Hellenic Community of Vancouver demonstrates its dedication to serving its members and making a positive impact in the community.

Over the years, the community has actively supported charitable causes, such as the Greater Vancouver Food Bank, where its members generously donate to the Christmas campaign and participate consistently. They have also extended their support to organizations like the Union Gospel Mission, donating up to 7,000 meals during the holiday season, as well as Covenant House and the BC Children's Hospital through the hosting of a Mother's Day Walk for their community members.
